

National Uniformity for Food Coalition

Consistent Food Safety Standards and Warning Labels are a National Priority

H.R. 4167, the National Uniformity for Food Act, is a common-sense piece of legislation that will help consumers make educated decisions for themselves and their families in an ever-changing and currently confusing food labeling environment. It also will ensure that states and the FDA work collaboratively to establish sound food safety policies that benefit, not confuse, consumers.

The bill establishes uniform labeling and food safety requirements so that Americans in every state are protected equally. It will provide consumers with a single set of consistent, science-based food safety regulations for packaged food products sold in all 50 states.

The members of the National Uniformity for Food Coalition urge all members of the House of Representatives to support H.R. 4167 and to vote “no” on amendments that will cripple the intent of the legislation.
